

BRO. LARRY'S SERMON NOTES

Title: A Profile of a Godly Mother
Text: 1 Samuel 2:18-20

Introduction: In the Old Testament, in 1 Samuel chapter one, we see an extraordinary profile of a godly mother. Hannah lived in a day when, as a nation, Israel was in bad shape. The conditions closely resembled the corruption and disorder of today. The nation's leaders had failed. Gideon and Samson, the spiritual leaders, were nothing more than memories. Patriotism was nil and morals were low. The heroes were all dead, and the prophets were yet unborn. The nation was stumbling and a spiritual rebirth was desperately needed.

Hannah was from a little town called Ramathaim-Zophim. It was just a wide spot in the road. The biggest thing about it was its name. However, in that little obscure village, God had a mother and He would eventually have His servant.

God often uses the small people of this world to bring about His divine purposes! Such was the case with Hannah. God would take this unknown woman, build her character through trials and hardships, and use her to have an instrumental part in His dealings with the entire nation.

The influence of Hannah is still felt today. She was a great mother, and her story is an inspiration to mother's everywhere. In Hannah, we have a profile of a godly mother. Let's notice this fourfold profile.

- I. A godly mother is strong in _____.
- II. A godly mother is strong in _____.
- III. A godly mother is strong in _____.
- IV. A godly mother is strong in _____.
